Membership

The members of Co-operative Press Ltd (trading as Co-op News) are all co-owners of the world's oldest independent media co-operative!

Our member-owners are the heart of our organisation and are vital in our continued mission of connecting, championing and challenging co-ops and co-operators around the world.

Members can participate in our democracy by standing for the board of directors and voting in elections and meetings. They can join editorial meetings and receive updates from the board and staff team – and get special member offers, too. And, of course, get the monthly Co-op News magazine each month – by email or by post.

History of Co-op News:
